

Limited Enrollment Classes for the Spring Semester 2011

Energy Policy and Climate Change (short course)

Human Rights Seminar

Judicial Externship

Legal Drafting

Mediation Practice Workshop (short course)

Mental Health Expertise in Criminal Law Proceedings

Negotiations

Patent Office Practice & Procedure

Politics of Race

Representations of Women: Law, Literature & Gender

Tax Policy

Trial Practice

Trial Practice Criminal Defense

Witness Preparation (short course)

Worker's Social Legislation

For these classes, turn in a Limited Enrollment Lottery Form to Charlene Carpenter by noon on Wednesday, November 17.

Note: All second-year students must take Legal Ethics this spring. There are four sections of this class scheduled. Although enrollment is capped for each section to facilitate class discussions, you need not fill out a lottery or other preference form for this class. In order to maximize your opportunity to get into the section most convenient for you, make sure you schedule this class early when registration opens.